Pujya Sant
Shri Asharamji Bapu

ज्ञानी तु आत्मैव... “But the Brahmajnāni, I regard, as My very Self.”

– Bhagavān Shri Krishna (Gītā: 7.18)

The jiva has virtues as well as vices, restlessness and misery too, but the vices of the jiva start to vanish on having the darshan and satsang of Bhagavān and Brahmajnāni great men, the Lilās of Bhagavān and tricks of Brahmajnāni; and devotion, happiness and bliss start to manifest in the jiva’s mind. The avatār of Shri Krishna and the company of saints, is only meant to manifest the bliss-nature of Sachchidānanda. Those who can take the benefit of such saints when they are living, and avail others of the same, are blessed indeed.

The height of injustice done to an innocent, unblemished Saint ॐ

Bapuji is innocent. In this country, even terrorists are released on parole, but innocent Bapu is not released, even on parole! Those who are holding powerful positions have asked for votes in the name of protecting Sanātan Dharma. Take further steps in this direction and make a concrete decision.

Develop your eligibility

– Pujya Bapuji

Divine help is received by those who develop their eligibility for it. The support and help from Guru resonates only in those who develop their eligibility through self-discipline.

Sant Jnāneshwar Mahārāj, in one of His Satsang-discourses said, “Big donations and gifts are given only after assessing the worthiness of the recipient. Therefore, one should uplift himself by himself, by developing eligibility.”

When the discourse finished, a lady from a noble family said, “Mahārāj! God is God after all. Worthy or unworthy, all are children of God. He gives generously. God does not look at the worthiness or unworthiness of people.”

Sant Jnāneshwar said, “Really!”

The lady further added, “We wealthy people don’t look at the worthiness or unworthiness of beneficiaries while doing charity. Why would God look at worthiness? He should give generously.”

Sant Jnāneshwar Ji thought: “This lady won’t be convinced through teachings. She needs to learn through a practical demonstration.”

After a few days, he sent a beggar, who was an opium addict criminal, to the lady’s house. He was instructed to do the following: “Go to the lady’s house and ask to borrow some ornaments from her for a few days. Then tell me secretly what she said to you.”

The beggar approached the lady and said, “Sister! You are so affluent. I want 2 bangles, 2 rings and 1 necklace, if you can’t donate them to me, please, lend them to me for a few days.”

Angrily, the lady said, “Go away! I am not giving you my bangles.”

“Sister, lend me just for a few days.”

“No, No, I won’t!”

“Ok, give at least one bangle and one ring.”

“Not a ring, I am not going to give you anything! Go away!”

The beggar implored her, but the lady gave him neither a bangle nor a garland nor a ring.

After a while, Sant Jnāneshwar Ji visited the lady and said, “Sister! I would like to borrow some of your ornaments for a few days.” The lady said: “Mahārāj! Do you need... ornaments!”

The lady immediately removed all her ornaments and wrapped them in a piece of cloth and handed them to Sant Jnāneshwar Ji and said, “Prabhu, please take them.”

Sant Jnāneshwar Ji said, “Just a while ago, a beggar was pleading, imploring and abjectly entreating you, but you didn’t give him anything. Yet you are happily handing over all your ornaments to me.”

“Mahārāj! There is a big difference between the worthiness of that man and you. I like to give to a saint like you. Who would give to that man?”

Sant Jnāneshwar Ji said, “When you consider the worthiness or unworthiness of the recipient even before giving a few petty ornaments, how can the Lord give His own Self to someone without his eligibility?”

Ekalavya developed his eligibility by

Then only will your Janmashtami be concluded

– Pujya Bapuji

(Janmāshtami: 18th and 19th August)

Why is Shri Krishna a full incarnation?

The name of the Supreme Brahman who fascinates, attracts and delights is Shri Krishna.

Krishna is the one who fascinates and attracts.

Shri Krishna has become the disciple, Shri Krishna has become the Guru, Shri Krishna has become the father, Shri Krishna has become the mother and Shri Krishna becomes the child. Therefore, the life of Shri Krishna is considered to be a complete incarnation for all-round uplift of human life.

Mahārāj, Shri Krishna as a child was also so perfect in Bāla Lilā (sports of child) that can be seen in accepting his mother's love, in sports (Lilās) of stealing butter, being tied to a mortar. He was the perfect warrior amongst warriors; he was the perfect Jnāni amongst Jnānis. He preached such lofty teachings in the Gītā that it became a world-renowned book and he was such an ascetic living in solitude that he also sat silently at the Guru's hermitage for 13 years. He was such a devotee of his parents that He did not care about his education, first He completed the service of his parents and then went to study. A very focused student even in studies! Even in carrying on friendship, Shri Krishna was so generous that he ate the rice flakes presented by poor Sudāmā with so much love that He said, "It is nectar for me."

You should also invite your childhood friends like Sudāmā to your home on the day of Janmāshtami. Accept any plain food like rice flakes and shower love on them by making them your guest. Shri Krishna has not left this; he has also practically shown it.

Then the celebration of Janmāshtami will be concluded.

The festival of Janmāshtami is a very unique festival. Janmāshtami is not concluded by distributing prasāda, by tossing butter and sugar candy or by breaking the earthen pitchers of curd (by organising a Mataki Fod programme). The celebration of Janmāshtami will be concluded when Shri Krishna, who is unborn, formless, beyond the reach of the senses, is attracting and fascinating; when that antaryāmin Shri Krishna starts manifesting in your heart. Otherwise, you are trying to celebrate the festival and every year the lovely Janmāshtami comes, so that our persistent efforts may be concluded with the birth of Krishna (in your heart).

Krishna incarnated 5247-48 years ago upon this earth, but even now the Krishna Tattva (consciousness) is incarnating in every breath that alone gives life to your intellect, mind and senses. But because you incarnate Him partially, you live cringing, suppressed, and wretchedly. If you incarnate Him completely, you too will make Shri Krishna completely happy.

Unique Avatār – Shri Krishna Avatār

There is a difference in Shri Krishna's incarnation and other incarnations. The work of uplifting society, while carrying out implicitly the commands of traditions and Why did the garden of life wither?

(Ego – the destroyer of all virtues)

– Pujya Bapuji

An emperor arranged for a beautiful garden to be created. There were many varieties of plants brought from far-off places; due to which, different types of flowers of different colours blossomed there. The emperor visited the garden often, to take a stroll. Whenever guests or kings from neighbouring states arrived, he would take them especially to the garden. One of the plants in the garden was growing very quickly. In just a short span of time, it turned into a giant tree and its bad smell and toxic shadow caused the rest of the fragrant plants to wither. The emperor thought, ‘What kind of tree is this? Where has it come from? What has happened to the garden?’

He became worried and sent a request to his Guru to visit his palace. When he told him the situation, the Guru said, ‘My son! There are a variety of plants with beautiful flowers blooming in the garden but just one toxic and useless tree has grown and this is the cause of the plight of your beautiful garden.’

The condition of your life is similar to this garden. The flowers of virtue of forgiving, joy, justness and health have blossomed in your heart but the plant of ego has grown into a tree. Because of this ego alone, all your fragrance has become suppressed and you have become hurtful to the people. The way this tree hurts all other plants, similarly your ego hurts other people. Surrender your ego at the feet of God.

धन यौवन का करे गुमान सो मूरख मंद अज्ञान ।
रूप-लावण्य का करे अभिमान सो मूरख मंद अज्ञान ।

“The person who is proud of wealth and youthfulness is an ignorant fool; The person who is proud of his beautiful form is an ignorant fool.”

Hence, go to the people who are superior to you in dutifulness, divine knowledge, meditation and who are advanced on the path of God-realization, so that your ego gets checked. And even better would be to renounce the egotism of your royal status and power, perishable wealth and form and tread the path of God-realization, shown by the shastras and the great men to attain the eternal wealth of Self-knowledge. The success of a human birth lies in this alone.”

Students must realise this...

– Pujya Bapuji

Realise that you are a cyclone of power. You are such a stream which feeds water to all rivers. Those who believe in their soul-force, become self-reliant and fearless.

(A quote from the booklet ‘The Vedantic Message of Fearlessness’ published by the ashram)

Shraddha ritual, that gives health, longevity, prosperity, fame and power – Pujya Bapuji

Whatever is done for ancestors with reverence is called 'Shraddha'. Your one month is equal to one day of Pitri Loka. On the day of Shraddha, ancestors wish that their descendents offer something to satisfy them. They wait until the sunset of Sarvapitri Amāvasyā, and if they don't get any offering then, they leave for their Loka, damning their progeny who will continue to face one or another trouble at home. So one should perform the Shraddha ritual to beget good progeny and enjoy sound health.

The performer of Shraddha ritual gets a healthy long life, prosperity, fame and power. I too perform Shraddha. My mother asked me to perform Shraddha even when I was about 20-22 years old. I would perform it well and I started to get good inspiration and prudence afterwards. Increasing the virtue of having good feelings for all beings makes one not only a great man, but God himself.

Why should we perform Shraddha?

This world is the Karma Bhumi. Whatever action is done by the doer, he will receive the fruit of the same sooner or later. Those jivas who were human in their previous births and did Shraddha, virtuous deeds and gave something to people before they begged, they get without asking. Without asking for anything, many things like popularity, wealth and respect pursue them. Those who have given after being asked for, do very hard work, put in much effort to earn, get but in a limited amount.

Those who did not perform Shraddha, virtuous deeds or philanthropic acts, work hard but their intellect doesn't support them and their fate doesn't favour them. They drag along on a wretched existence and get nothing in spite of begging, so miserable are they. So, in the days of Shraddha, one should perform Shraddha according to his capacity.

Mantra for Shraddha ritual

Ancestors are satisfied by offering libations of water mixed with sesame seeds three times to Sun god while chanting the mantra for Shraddha, which brings prosperity, satisfaction and happiness in the home. Shraddha becomes fruitful even by chanting the mantra for Shraddha three times while performing it.

ॐ ह्रीं श्रीं क्लीं स्वधादेव्यै स्वाहा । Om Hrim Shrim Klim Svadhādevyai Swāhā

If you repeat this Mantra after performing Shraddha ritual on the Sarvapitri Amāvasyā (new moon) day; it will make up for any deficiency in ritual, and ancestors will get satisfaction.

Shraddha will be completed by this prayer

It is not possible for everyone to get all the necessary materials for the ritual of Shraddha and perform the ceremony perfectly. One should try his best and stand in front of the Sun by keeping both eyes closed, hands up and showing bare armpits to the sun and say: "Oh Sun god and your loveliest son, god of death, Yamaraj!! I did whatever I could to perform the shraddha ritual for my parents and grandparents, and

The Divine Message of Pujya Bapuji

“Mātru-Pitru Pujan ki rāha dikhānewāle... (O! The one who has shown us the path of Parents' Worship Day...)

This bhajan is very emotional. When children embrace their parents, their parents' hearts melt, with tears in their eyes. Whoever witnesses that sight becomes emotional. Now I have given an instruction that people should be able to see Parents' Worship Day bhajan at their homes on the 14th of every month. All the websites and channels of the ashram will run this devotional song on 14th of every month. Show it to your children and avail those (without a Guru) troubled with their children to watch it without fail. Show it to all parents who are unhappy with their children. This will cause innocent love to flow out to family members, like the ever-flowing Gangā, and create a beautiful society.”

long life.

By doing āsanas and prāṇāyāma, the nervous system, the respiratory system, the digestive system, and the brain get good exercise. Their physiological functioning is improved. Those who do āsanas and prāṇāyāma, following the methods of the sages, do not have to suffer the adverse effects of injections and capsules prescribed by doctors. Those who know the rules of health, āsanas and prāṇāyāma, do not have to trouble doctors and hakims again and again. They remain healthy, effortlessly and naturally. (To be continued...) ○
